When you use or connect our website through your computer or a mobile device, we may collect certain information about you, directly from our web server logs, with the aid of cookies and through the use of website analytics, provided by a third-party service provider. We collect personally identifiable information necessary for differentiation of our users. Visitors of our website can access the website and possibly purchase services. When you register, we will request some personal information such as your name, address, e-mail, telephone number or other relevant information. We also collect your IP computer address. Any financial information we collect is used only for the provision of the service to users. For different types of registrations, we may ask different information relevant to the subject matter. You may also be asked to disclose personal information to us so that we can provide assistance and information to you. For example, such data may be warranted in order to provide technical support and troubleshooting. Examples of information we may obtain include but is not limited to your Internet Protocol address, the type of browser or computer you use, the number of links you click within the site, the geographical location from which you accessed the site, the date and time of your visit, the name of your Internet service provider, any web pages you linked to our Site from, and pages you viewed on the Site.

USE OF COOKIES

In an effort to personalize your experience on our website, we may use cookies. A cookie is a text file that is placed on a hard disk, by a Web page server, to identify the specific user's next time visits to the website. Cookies cannot be used to run programs or deliver viruses to your computer. Cookies are uniquely assigned to you and can only be read by a Web Server in the domain that issued the cookie to you. We do not allow other companies to place cookies on our website unless there is a temporary, overriding of this Policy value (such as integrating another site that relies on third-party cookies into the existing website). You have the ability to accept or decline cookies. Most Web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to delete or decline cookies. If you reject cookies by changing your browser settings then be aware that this may disable some of the functionality on our Website.

NOTICE ON DISCLOSURE OF USER PERSONAL INFORMATION

Your Personally Identifiable Information will be kept confidential and will be treated as such. We will only disclose website usage data and/or personal data, to third parties, as permitted by law(s), or when and where we are legally obliged to do so or if such disclosure becomes necessary to enforce our rights, in particular, to enforce claims arising from a contractual relationship, or required to comply with any judicial, and/or other proceedings, court order, legal process or pursuant to any governmental, intergovernmental and/or other regulatory bodies, whereby such disclosure may be executed by us, without prior notice to you. Your personal information can be shared with our website hosting partners and other parties who assist us in operating our website, conducting our business, or serving our users, so long as those parties agree to keep this information confidential. We may also release information when it's release is appropriate to comply with the law, enforce our site policies, or protect ours or others' rights, property or safety. The main purpose of collecting data is to improve the quality of services to natural/legal persons, research and statistic analysis, facilitation of technical administration, online website behavior and trends of users, improve the quality of services and develop new ones, improve security by protecting against fraud and abuse, inform you of products and/or services that may be of interest to you, ensuring network and information security.

We will not be liable for unlawful or unauthorized use of your personal information due to misuse or misplacement of your passwords, negligent or malicious intervention and/or otherwise. Your personal data may be shared within Trading Technologies employees, affiliates or other third party service providers in order to process obligations arising from any agreement that we may have with such other parties, where this is necessary to provide services which you have requested from us.

SECURITY MEASURES

We will takes all appropriate security measures to ensure that the personal data/data collected and stored, in connection with your visit to the website and/or in relation to the services provided by us is protected against any unauthorized access, misuse, loss and/or destruction.

We use physical and electronic security measures, including but not limited to the use of firewalls, personal passwords, encryption and authentication technologies and we are bound by professional secrecy and comply with all data protection provisions.

It is to be noted, that access to personal data is restricted to specific employees, contractors and third-party service providers who require this access in order to provide the relevant access to the services. The information is provided on a “need to know” basis.

It should be noted that data transmitted via an open network like the Internet cannot be fully protected from third-party access, although we take the best possible precautions to avoid any leakage of information/data.

Any transmission of data via the internet is at your own risk, although we will exercise all ways in order to protect your personal data. We adhere to strict security standards by using the most up to date security technologies.

INTERNET BASED DATA TRANSFER

Given that the Internet is a global environment, using the Internet to collect and process personal data necessarily involves the transmission of data on an international basis. Therefore, by browsing this website and communicating electronically with us, you acknowledge and agree to our processing of personal data in this manner.
